

WELCOME TO THE APRIL FLOURISH FIVE

Partnering in Ministry

As a group of women who love Jesus and are eager to look more like Him, we want to shout out areas we have seen you doing just that! This past fall the women of our MomCo group, predominantly mothers of young children, worked together to make beautiful care packages and raise money to purchase a new washer and dryer for the moms of Peacock Legacy of Hope. Peacock is a local ministry that walks with women experiencing single motherhood. These gifts were made and prayed over with hearts eager to lift up other mothers and show the love of Christ in a tangible way. We have a loving, generous, and thoughtful God so when we can be those things we are reflecting His glory! - 2 Corinthians 2:18

Summer Book Club Preview

We are excited to kick off our THIRD summer of Book Club. This year we are mixing it up! Instead of only one book choice and 2 times, we are offering multiple books and days/times to meet! You can pick the book and time that work best for you to gather with other women.

Our first two books announced are:

Women of the Word by Jen Wilkin
Led by Renee Brady

Tired of Being Tired by Jess Conolly
led by Laura Bauer

Community Prompts

Community requires bravery. Be the one who initiates! Often times we wait to be invited or included, instead be the one to invite and include others.

Plan ahead! With summer quickly approaching start to think through rhythms and practices that will help to intentionally introduce community into your days.

Social media can foster a false sense of connection. Enjoy it for what it is, but if you find yourself communicating almost exclusively through social media consider taking an intentional break from it or even just setting time limits. Give yourself the opportunity for in-person interaction.

Connection Event
